

VUVX 2010 Abstract Submission Information

Abstract Submission Deadline: Friday, April 16, 2010, 11:59 PM (PST)

VUVX 2010 ONLINE ABSTRACT SUBMISSION SYSTEM

Abstracts for the VUVX2010 must be submitted online through the Online Abstract Submission Form. Authors will first be required to create a user profile. After creating a profile, authors can sign in using the Access Key given to them in their account confirmation email. It is recommended that the confirmation email be kept as the Access Key will allow returning users to submit additional abstracts and make changes to a current submission until the abstract deadline.

To save time during the submission process, it is suggested that authors prepare the abstract in a Word Document, using the font type Times New Roman in 10pt font. Once this is done, the abstract can be copied and pasted into the text box on the Online Abstract Submission Form. If special characters are used, authors should check that these characters have not changed in the copy and paste process.

After completing the form, you will be transferred to the preview page. This page shows the amount of space allocated to your abstract for inclusion in the Book of Abstracts. Please ensure that your abstract fits within the confines of the red box before completing your submission.

Please note that abstracts for the REIXS Satellite Meeting must also be submitted here.

PRESENTATION TYPES

The conference is accepting abstracts for oral and poster presentations,

NOTE REGARDING INTERNET BROWSERS

Authors are encouraged to use Internet Explorer 6 (or above) or Fire Fox 3 (or above). However, please note that with all of the computer/browser combinations, there are sure to be some bugs. In particular, if you are using Safari on Macintosh computer, please consider using Firefox.

CONFIRMATION OF ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

Authors will be sent an e-mail to confirm the successful submission of their abstract. This e-mail will contain an Abstract ID Number. This number will be displayed in your confirmation email upon successful submission of your abstract. Please refer to the Abstract ID Number in any subsequent abstract communications. If you require confirmation of your submitted abstract, please contact the Conference Secretariat.

ACCURACY OF ABSTRACTS

The accuracy of the submitted abstract is the responsibility of the authors. Abstracts will not be edited for typographical errors or corrected by VUVX2010 staff.
